If you only watch or read mainstream legacy media, you may not have heard about the following happenings. Humans trend either towards Jesus as individuals or towards tyranny as a group. I believe our Christian freedom will be influenced by either the heavy hand of American citizens, or the heavy hand of the Federal Government.

Recently at a certain political rally, taxpayer funding for abortion (on demand up to and including time after birth) was cheered and celebrated as a very great freedom and a wonderful ecstasy for all people to enjoy. It was lauded and shouted as the fundamental right of all people, except for the baby. In response to this, some people shouted out "Jesus is King" and "Jesus is Lord." Hearing the Name of Jesus, the certain politician speaking, who is currently (apparently) running for "President of the United States," said to them, in an affected and appropriated accent, "Oh Y'all at the wrong rally. Ya'll supposal' be at the smaller one down the street." (Pointing behind her as she spoke, and as the crowd again broke into cheers and jeers, and as she began laughing nervously).

Recently, on a widely circulated video, the (apparent) Governor of Michigan parodied the fact that masses of people were following her party's political platform message, and made mock humor of their manipulation of American voters. She did this by having a pretend "average voter" kneel on the floor before her exposing her tongue, as the (apparent) Governor of Michigan placed a Dorito on the kneeling persons' tongue, with an expression of mock surprise. Doritos are a favorite snack food of a certain political candidate currently (apparently) running for "President of the United States." This video skit recalls the practice of sacramental communion, or the receiving of the host, which is the body and blood, soul and divinity of Our Lord

Looking Over Jordan

Jesus Christ, according to the Roman Catholic tradition.

Recently, during the Roman Catholic Charity Alfred Smith Memorial Dinner, a certain political candidate (apparently) running for "President of the United States" phoned in a bizarre and chaotic video presentation. During this presentation, she portrayed herself as a very religious person. She did this by having a hyper-stereotyped Catholic schoolgirl actress laud her virtues as a leader. The outstanding virtue was that she is "a woman." The certain candidate then read a script that was very religious and complementary to Catholics and the Charity dinner. She exhorted hearers to remember that the Gospel of Luke teaches us that "faith has the power to shine the light on those living in darkness and to guide our feet in the path of peace." Most charitably, this is an intentionally garbled and inappropriately used conflation of ideas found in the Gospel, and is in no way propositional truth from God's Word! Immediately after this the certain candidate appeared at her public birthday party, which included having a Gospel Choir from a Baptist church sing "Happy Birthday" as she stood by smiling.

This certain candidate is the individual holding a high office in an administration that jails peaceful protestors without trial for years, jails political opponents, jails journalists, and prosecutes unjustly candidates running against them, advocates and coerces tech company social media censorship, advocates disarming law abiding citizens, promotes religious discrimination against Christians who peacefully oppose certain policies and unjust laws, and labels parents as domestic terrorists. This certain candidate's administration promotes open borders into our country, promotes tax payer money for foreign wars between other countries, and openly embraces the pagan pansexual agenda, which has heavy influence over public elementary schools.

There is much more I could say about other candidates, parties and campaigns for office. While no political candidate is perfect, the above facts are of interest to concerned Christians who intend to vote as their informed conscience tells them. In this troubled time, please pray quietly and then vote confidently on or before Tuesday, November 5.

Happy because of Jesus,
Pastor James
